In this issue, we will talk about the new QantasLink cadetship program.

NEW QANTASLINK CADETSHIP - only requiring basic CPL

This is excellent news for pilots who hold or are just about to sit their CPL test. Qantaslink has been extremely happy with the quality of the graduates from their traineeship over the past four years - now over 100 graduates. The traineeship requires as a minimum a COL, Command Instrument Rating and credits in all ATPL subjects.

So the program has now been extended to those who hold only a CPL. This is an excellent opportunity to join Australia's leading (also highest paying and access to Qantas staff travel) regional airline. The plan is to graduate at least 40 candidates per annum from this new training program.

This program will effectively "fast track" your career by at least six years. This is because the vast majority of candidates who follow the traditional charter/instructor pathway would take six years to build the experience required for Qantaslink direct entry.

Salaries for First Officers with more than two years' service average over $80K whilst the salaries for Captains range between $120K to $160K. It is anticipated graduates from the program would be eligible for promotion to Captain after four or five years.

- You can now join Qlink holding just a bare CPL which can be obtained in 150 hours
- Program to have four intakes over the next 12 months.
- First intake will be in October 2012
- Applications are open now
- 24 week residential program at Flight training Adelaide
